February Meeting Notice

January Meeting Summary:

We had a terrific meeting with Laura Breyer as our guest speaker. She shared her vast knowledge of vineyard management practices, offering very useful advice to those of us that grow our own grapes and for those that source their grapes from others.

February Meeting:

Our meeting this month will feature David Munksgard, the longtime winemaker for Iron Horse Vineyards in the Green Valley AVA of Sebastopol. Dave is noted for his widely acclaimed sparkling wines and exceptional Pinot Noir and Chardonnays still wines. He will discuss his career as a commercial winemaker, as well as an early stint as an amateur winemaker. He will be offering practical insights into the art and science of wine making, particularly as related to home wine-making. He's been asked to touch on topics that are of particular interest to him, his style of wine-making, and the practices responsible for the distinct style and quality of his sparklers and seamless wines he's noted for. Don't miss this meeting -- Dave is articulate, knowledgeable, entertaining, and has a great sense of humor.

Membership Dues:

If you haven't done so already it's time to renew your GENCO membership! Dues are payable in January, but we accept in February and March as well.

Make your $40 check out to "GENCO" and mail to Cathleen, our treasurer, (see below) or bring to the next meeting. Should you need it a membership form is attached to this notice.

Dues not current on April 1st will result in dropping you from membership and you are unable to participate in our events (such as, the upcoming competition April 5th and Awards dinner on May 5th).
